With the arrest of Charles "Chuck" Grim, 22, of Knoxville, O., and William "Bill" Minner, 26, of near Salem, Salem police authorities today believed they had in their custody the men who last Wednesday held up and robbed William Underwood, attendant at the Pennzoil gasoline filling station.

Grim and Minner are said to have escaped from the Jefferson county jail in Steubenville, three weeks ago, after saving through three sets of bars with three fellow prisoners. They were arrested in Teegarden, south of Salem, by Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy, Fireman Ted Yarwood and Henry Jones, and Patrolman William Reardon, about 10 p. m. Sunday.

Three loaded shotguns, two revolvers, and 800 rounds of ammunition, said by Salem police to have been stolen from a hardware store in Leetonia, last Thursday, were confiscated by the officers. Cheese, butter, canned goods, hams, new shoes, clothing and other merchandise, all of which is entirely new, was found.

Tells of Robberies
Grim is said to have talked freely of robberies in the vicinity, but denied that he and Minner were responsible for either of the two hold-ups, which occurred in Salem in the past week. Underwood was unable to definitely identify either man, but said that Grim re-

FOUR ATTEMPT ROAD ROBBERY

Youths Held In Prison
After Arrest By Deputy

Four men are being held in Lisbon jail today for arraignment before Justice of Peace M. K. Zimmerman on charges of attempting to hold up and rob Frank Klink, of near Damascus, shortly after 1 a. m. Sunday.

Klink charges that the men assaulted and attempted to rob him after he had picked them up in his automobile near Alliance and had driven them to Damascus. When he drove into Damascus, he alleges the men started to attack him, but he escaped and called Deputy Sheriff C. E. Donahay by telephone.

Donahay arrived at the scene shortly afterwards but the men had disappeared. He drove through Damascus and found them hiding behind the Friends meeting house. He placed them under arrest, and notified Sheriff W. J. Barlow, who took them to Lisbon.

The four are: Arthur Robinson and Ed Arnold, Alliance; Stanley McDermott, East Liverpool and Paul Wright, Sebring. They were to be arraigned before Justice Zimmerman this afternoon.

East Liverpool Man Chosen Moderator

Wooster, O., Sept. 30.—The 1930 meeting of the Ohio United Presbyterian church will be held in the Wooster church of that denomination, according to word received here today from Pontiac, Mich., where this year's convocation was held.

The synod comprises five presbyteries which include territory in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Michigan.

Rev. J. L. Davidson, of East Liverpool, was elected moderator at this year's meeting.

Strikers Are Facing Trial For Third Time

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 30.—For the third time in as many months, Fred Erwin Beal, Communist generalissimo of the Gastonia strike, and his 15 class-conscious co-defendants, to-day faced a court of justice on charges of murder and conspiracy growing out of the assassination of Police Chief O. F. Aderholt.

The case then came up on a charge of venue here in Mecklenburg county in the month, but when the state was half through with its testimony, a mistrial had to be ordered because of J. G. Campbell, one of the jurymen, became insane.

Festival Sponsors Extend Thanks

So successful was the Community festival held in Salem Friday and Saturday that the Salem Business Bureau, which arranged the celebration, desires to publicly thank all those who contributed in any way to its success.

R. S. McCulloch, general chairman, his chief assistant, J. A. Schwartz, and George J. Bunn, president of the bureau, were generous in their praise for those who worked so hard to prepare for and carry out the program and likewise those who contributed in other ways.

Special thanks from these men go to the American Legion, Boy and Girl Scouts, High School and Quaker City bands, manufacturers, city officials, school board, park commission, The News and Farm & Dairy and all who participated in the parade.

HORSE CONTEST DRAWS THROUGHS TO CENTENNIAL

Salem, Ellsworth Teams
Win Pulling Contest
At Park

Thousands of persons gathered at Centennial park to witness the Salem Community Festival horse-pulling contest, Saturday afternoon. It was estimated by members of the committee in charge of the affair that between 5,000 and 7,000 spectators were present.

First honors in the contests went to the team entered by S. B. Cope, of Salem, in the heavyweight division, while the horses entered by Harry Brown, Ellsworth, won first prize in the lightweight contest. Cope's horses pulled a weight of 2,800 pounds, equivalent to 18.2 tons 3 ft. 2 in. to win the award in the heavyweight contests, while Brown's entries pulled 2,500 pounds, equivalent to 16 1-4 tons, 25 ft. 2 in.

First Time Event It was the first time such an event had ever been held in Salem, and it proved an attraction to the largest gathering of persons ever to have attended a competitive sporting event here.

Horses were hitched to a special machine, brought here from Ohio State university and the weight each team was to pull, was regulated by its operators. First trials were made by 9 3-4 tons, all but one of the entries qualifying by pulling the truck, to which the machine was attached, the required distance of 27 1-2 ft. Ten teams competed in (Continued on Page 4)

Four Entries Filed In Letter Contest

Contestants for the cash prizes offered by the Salem Business Bureau were apparently finding it difficult to solve the "missing letter contest" sponsored by the bureau as with the Community Festival as a feature contest in conjunction.

Only four answers had been received today by the bureau from persons who are attempting to solve the puzzle. More than 1,000 persons displayed interest in the event, being seen on the city's streets, Friday and Saturday nights with pad and pencil, eagerly searching down town stores for the letters which form the phrase.

Closing time for answers has been fixed for tonight by the bureau. All answers should be submitted at the bureau's office, Main st.

Performer Hurt In Leap At Trapeze

The only accident of the festival resulted when one of the Vardel brothers, while attempting to perform the feature act of the outdoor entertainment was slightly injured. Vardel sustained bad cuts about the chin and two of his front teeth were broken. His injuries were treated by Dr. R. T. Holzbach.

BULLETIN
Tallahassee, Fla., Sept. 30.—A 55 mile wide hurricane is whipping Apalachicola, according to reports received here.

The depot at Apalachicola was reported unroofed.

Wire communications to Apalachicola and Port St. Joe are down.

New Orleans, Sept. 30.—Hurricane warnings from Pensacola, Fla., to the mouth of the Mississippi were re-issued at noon today after messages picked up here by the tropical radio indicated the storm was increasing in intensity.

Port Lauderdale, Fla., Sept. 30.—

Forty persons were suffering from minor injuries today as the result of a freak cyclone, believed to be off-shoot of the tropical hurricane, which struck Port Lauderdale and vicinity last night.

Damage estimated at $250,000 was sustained by buildings in the business district, while the residential district suffered to the extent of $75,000.

No serious injuries or deaths were reported. The storm, cutting a swath a hundred feet wide, struck the city without warning.

BUREAU WILL AWARD PRIZES

Holders of Numbers To Get Awards At Office

Approximately 250,000 tickets, representing $62,500 in cash sales, were distributed by Salem merchants participating in the Community Festival last week, Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, secretary of the Salem Business Bureau announced today. Tickets were given with each purchase of 25 cents.

Holders of winning numbers are to take them to the bureau office in order to receive awards. The list of numbers is announced here. Those holding winning numbers must submit them this week; if they fail to do so, the numbers listed as second choice will be the winner. In case the second choice tickets are not turned in, the third choice numbers will be termed winners.

Parachute Saves Aviator's Life

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 30.—Capt. Jack Butterfield, 35, did a bit of stunt flying near Lunken airport yesterday. He is alive today only because of his parachute.

Butterfield was flying at a height of about 9,000 feet when he nosed his plane upward into a loop. As the craft settled upon its back, Butterfield's safety strap became loosened and he was flung from the ship.

He pulled the ring and his parachute settled him safely to the ground. His plane was demolished when it crashed on the banks of the Little Miami river.

PRIZES AWARDED IN APPLE SHOW; MANY EXHIBITS

Display Is Exceptionally Fine Despite Poor
Yield Year

A total of 376 exhibits composed the fruit and vegetable show, held at the Memorial building, Friday and Saturday, W. H. Mathews, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, announced today.

Included in the display were 98 groups of apples containing nine specimens, and 213 groups of four apples each, 11 groups of peaches, 12 groups of pears, four groups of quinces, and 11 groups of grapes. There were 17 pecks of potatoes on display, together with six different varieties of other vegetables.

Mathews, who is president of the Ohio State Horticulture society, was assisted in judging the entries by J. C. Cope, C. W. Hall and J. C. Pottoir.

It was one of the finest exhibits of apples ever on display here, Mathews stated, despite the fact that this year the apple crop is far below normal. List of prize-winners follows:

Interesting Events At Festival

What Salem People And Visitors Saw And Heard

Dr. Jesse Sturgeon, 76-year-old Salem resident, rode the only antique bicycle in Saturday's Community Festival parade. He was perched on his 52-inch "high wheel", wearing the cap and coat worn by members of the "Quaker City Wheelmen", an organization of bicycle enthusiasts, active in this city more than 40 years ago.

Dr. Sturgeon purchased his bicycle in 1885, and in 1887 rode it the entire distance of about 300 miles to Buffalo, N. Y., where the national convention of the "League of American Wheelmen" was held. It was at that convention that the first good roads meeting ever held in America was held.

Saturday's ride through the city's streets, marked Dr. Sturgeon's first appearance on his bicycle in 23 years. The last time he rode it was during the centennial celebration here in 1906.

Frank Redinger won first honors in the double-hitched antique horse-drawn vehicle, driving an old prairie schooner in the parade. The schooner, probably more than 100 years old, was a fine example of early-day wood workmanship, the entire Seventeen graves are being dug in Ohio today for as many humans who were sacrificed in traffic's bloody altar during the week-end.

The roads of the Buckeye state were not heavily crowded yesterday. Lowering clouds kept many motorists at home, but yet the 17 dead represent a comparatively heavy toll.

Several of the deaths recorded were due to rash actions of "hit-skip" outlaws, whom editorials called the "murderers of the highway." In most instances, too, the persons killed were not passengers in machines, but pedestrians.

A taxi-driver, William Gates, 26, of Denison, was fatally injured when he was struck by a train there.

Eight-year-old Richard Shriver died in an Akron hospital from injuries which he received Saturday when he figured in an automobile accident.

Ravenna Woman Killed

A similar death occurred at Ravenna when Mrs. Marie Podman, 73, succumbed.

A hit-and-run motorist claimed the life of Richard Line at Canton and William O'Neill, 55, of Girard, died in a hospital at Youngstown from injuries which he received when he was run down by an auto.

An unidentified man was run down and killed by a train and 15 other persons were injured in Dayton's week-end traffic. The man's body was found on the pilot of a Big Four passenger train and was recovered only after motorists saw it and flagged the train to a stop.

Carmen Konecna, 55, was instantly killed when he stepped into the path of an automobile driven by Elmer E. Applegarth, who was exonerated. Konecna formerly resided in Pittsburgh.

Akron reported two deaths. Glenn E. Schrader, 21, of Cuyahoga Falls, was killed when his automobile plunged into a bridge which spans the old Ohio canal near Canal Pulton A Toledo man, Clifford Parker, 43, was fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile while changing a tire on his own car on the Akron-Youngstown road.

Emery Hinson, 22, of Shadeville, was instantly killed and a girl companion suffered a broken collar bone, when his automobile plunged from the road at Ashville, near Columbus.

Earl L. Calhoun, a 17-year-old Sabana youth, was run down and killed at Kous while trying to dodge two other automobiles. Two persons are being held in connection with the death, but they are expected to be released.

Appearing in the parade was a carriage which was owned by the late Mark Hanna of Cleveland, in which President William McKinley made many of his excursions about Washington during his term as president of the United States. It was entered in the parade by Harry Brown, and took second prize.

S. M. Reynolds, of Damascus, who will be eighty next November, drove the prize-winning single-horse drawn vehicle. He appeared in old-fashioned dress, accompanied by two women in Quaker garb.

E. H. Campbell, Salem, presented a striking appearance, wearing a large sombrero of western "two-gal" capacity, together with the proverbial western red bandanna encircling his neck. Campbell had charge of the horse-pulling contest and was responsible for its appearance on the festival program.

J. Howard Sinclair, a member of the Columbiana county board of commissioners, was the official announcer of the day.

Thirty-two tiny tots participated in the doll carriage contest in the parade, winning much applause

Carmel Nocero, Wilson st., Salem, entered a plea of not guilty, through his attorney, H. H. Hickling, to a charge of unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquor, before Justice of Peace M. K. Zimmerman in Lisbon, Saturday.

Nocero is charged with being the owner and operator of a large copper still confiscated in a raid upon his home Friday, by state and county officers. The affidavit against Nocero was filed by State Probation Inspector O. P. Davis, of St. Clairsville.

Nocero, through Atty. Hickling, waived preliminary hearing and furnished $1,000 bond for his appearance at the next grand jury.

Fines totaling $2,600 have been assessed by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle against eight men and women who were arrested at Salem on affidavits filed by State Probation inspectors. In 19 other cases pleas of not guilty were entered.

In one case where selling and possession affidavits had been filed against an offender a fine of $200 and costs was entered in each case, and in another instance, where three charges were filed against John Dudas, he was first fined $200 on a charge of selling and $200 on a charge of possession, and then a second charge of possession was filed, and a fine of $1,000 was pronounced on his plea of guilty. DEATH CALLS DANIEL KIRBY

Former Publisher Dies
At Daughter's Home
In Pittsburgh

Daniel D. Kirby, 79, for many years a newspaper publisher in Salem, died early Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George H. Gee, in Pittsburgh.

Death was caused by kidney trouble, from which Mr. Kirby had suffered for some time.

The body will be brought to Salem Wednesday and may be viewed from 1 to 3 p. m. at the Elks home. Funeral service will be held there at 3 p. m. in charge of the Elks lodge. Burial in Grandview cemetery.

Mr. Kirby was widely known throughout Salem as the publisher of The Daily Herald and for his activities in all community affairs. As a young man he learned the trade of printer and later entered the publishing business. His son-in-law, George H. Gee, was editor of the Herald for several years.

About 12 years ago the Salem Publishing Co. purchased The Herald, combining it with The News. Mr. Kirby had previously disposed of his interests to W. W. Beck and George Gee. For several years he had lived a retired life and only two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Kirby disposed of their Salem home and went to Pittsburgh to live with their daughter and son-in-law.

Mr. Kirby took an active part in Democratic circles in Salem until he retired from business. He was a charter member of Salem lodge No. 305, B. P. O. Elks and was a past exalted ruler.

Surviving are the widow, one daughter, Mrs. Gee of Pittsburgh, and one brother, Joseph Kirby of Alberta, Canada.

FIVE CRASHES REPORTED HERE

Minor Injuries Sustained
By Motorists Over
Week-End

Two persons were injured in five automobile accidents occurring in Salem over the week-end.

A passenger in the machine belonging to J. E. Herman, of near Canfield, was slightly cut and bruised when Herman's machine collided with another car on Garfield ave. about noon Saturday. Both machines were badly damaged.

Oswald Raubert, Washingtonville, was brought to City hospital Sunday night, suffering from lacerations on the right hand and about the chest. No particulars were available on either accident.

Machines operated by Forest Green, Salem and Harold Lacey, West Point were involved in a collision on Broadway, Sunday night. No one was injured. Two automobiles, operated by Charles Geyer and Albert Horton, came together on the Blackburn hill at 8 a. m. today.

George Baldwin, Youngstown, narrowly escaped serious injury when the truck he was operating turned over on the Damascus rd. near the Salem Country club, about 8 a. m. today. Machines involved in each of these accidents were towed into Salem by the Grate Motor company.

D. D. Miller, Salem and Tom Campbell, Garfield escaped without injuries, when their automobiles collided at Damascus Sunday.

WATERS REcede IN FLOOD AREA

Relief Work Rushed To Prevent Epidemic;
Bridges Wrecked

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 30.—Relief for inhabitants of the flooded districts of Georgia near here was pushed forward today as high waters, receding at the rate of six inches an hour, made way for workers.

Total damage in the neighborhood of $1,900,000 was done when flood waters inundated Augusta and surrounding towns.

The streets of Augusta will be completely clear of water sometime today, according to municipal authorities.

Typhoid serum and purifiers have been sent to Waynesboro, near here, surrounding that city, the flood cut off its water supply and polluted the reserve, but medical authorities said prompt relief work had made an epidemic unlikely.

Five persons are known to be missing. Rail traffic south of here remains in a hopeless condition. Railway men face a difficult task where bridges are swept away and long gaps appear in tracks built along levees.

The Ford Motor company of this city brought from its collection of antique vehicles a 20-year-old Ford roadster, and managed to make it run during the entire march of the parade.

Stunt work in the air by Verne Christen was one of the events on the day's aerial program. The former Salemite started his stunting at 11 a. m. and performed impromptu acts in the air all through the day.

The Akron Goodyear blimp arrived in the city ahead of schedule, zooming over the city at low heights at 12 p. m. The Firestone tri-motored Ford plane arrived about 1:30.

Capt. Robert E. Brown and W. N. "Smiling Bill" Hudson arrived from McKinley airport, Canton, at 4:10, for their part in the aerial program. They performed loops, tailspins, barrel rolls, wings-overs, and other stunts, following which Red Brown leaped from a plane from a 1,500 feet height in a parachute.

ALLIANCE CHURCH WAR CONTINUING

Disagreement with Board
Over Pastors Does Not Abate

Alliance, O., Sept. 30.—The war over ministers in the first United Brethren church here waged on today despite the fact that Rev. L. H. Higelmiere of Akron, followed conference orders and preached to the faction-torn congregation yesterday.

Members of the congregation asserted today that they had not accepted Rev. Higelmiere as pastor of their church and would not until their side of the matter has been heard by Bishop A. R. Clippinger, who is now in Knoxville, Tenn.

The war over ministers started when the East Ohio conference of the church transferred Rev. Higelmiere from Slusser Memorial church at Akron to the Alliance church. The conference refused to return Rev. J. W. May, who has been pastor at the church for nearly two years. Despite the conference's ruling, the Alliance official church board has twice voted Rev. May into the pulpit over Rev. Higelmiere's appointment.

Rev. May, who still retains the keys to the church property, left the city last week on personal business, according to a member of the church board. In his absence the pulpit was filled by Rev. Higelmiere in the face of strong objection to him.

Salem Lutherans Attend Meeting

A large delegation from the English Lutheran church, Salem, attended a meeting of the Canton Youngstown Federation of Luther League Sunday afternoon and evening at Lorainwood.

Miss Ruth Hoch, president of the Salem league, had part on the program.

Special speakers were Dr. E. C. Kanders, president of Thiel college, Greenville, Pa., and R. E. Tullos, president of Wittenberg college, Springfield.

The next meeting will be held at Minerva on Nov. 24.

Hurt In Crash

Mansfield, O., Sept. 30.—J. T. Gummel, a Peru, Indiana, deputy sheriff, and Attorney R. H. Bayles, also of Peru, were hurt, not seriously, yesterday when their automobile crashed into a bus, near here. The two were returning a stolen car from New Jersey to Peru.

HORSES ATTRACT GREAT INTEREST

Equine Display One Of Best Held In State
This Year

With the finest display of horses ever seen in the city attracting widespread attention, Salem celebrated with a Community festival Saturday that brought thousands of visitors to view its parade, horse show, horse-pulling contest, aerial circus and other features.

From every standpoint the day was a complete success. Not only were the streets crowded with people and free parking spaces provided by the Salem Business Bureau, sponsor of the event, jammed with autos, but the parade and all other events of the day were even better than advertised.

Colorful Spectacle

The parade Saturday morning was a colorful spectacle, with its fine array of draft and saddle horses, ponies, floats, antique vehicles and decorated bicycles and doll carriages. The horses particularly attracted attention and many judges of good horses who were in the crowds declared that the display outclassed any of its kind held in Ohio this year, with the exception of the state fair.

Heading the parade was Brooke Votaw as marshal, mounted on his saddle horse, Frank J. Eckstein, chairman of the parade committee, and three of his assistants, Mark Hannay, L. R. Cobb and J. H. Sinclair also appeared on mounts.

George and Martha Washington, represented by Harold Harmon and Naomi Shinn and two American Indians, characters represented by Robert Simpson and Rhea Leiper followed the marshal on foot. Costuming of these characters was arranged by Miss Grace P. Orr. Then came an old prairie schooner drawn by four horses and driven by Frank Redinger.

The streets of Augusta will be completely clear of water sometime today, according to municipal authorities.

Typhoid serum and purifiers have been sent to Waynesboro, near here, surrounding that city, the flood cut off its water supply and polluted the reserve, but medical authorities said prompt relief work had made an epidemic unlikely.

Five persons are known to be missing. Rail traffic south of here remains in a hopeless condition. Railway men face a difficult task where bridges are swept away and long gaps appear in tracks built along levees.

The Ford Motor company of this city brought from its collection of antique vehicles a 20-year-old Ford roadster, and managed to make it run during the entire march of the parade.

Stunt work in the air by Verne Christen was one of the events on the day's aerial program. The former Salemite started his stunting at 11 a. m. and performed impromptu acts in the air all through the day.

The Akron Goodyear blimp arrived in the city ahead of schedule, zooming over the city at low heights at 12 p. m. The Firestone tri-motored Ford plane arrived about 1:30.

Capt. Robert E. Brown and W. N. "Smiling Bill" Hudson arrived from McKinley airport, Canton, at 4:10, for their part in the aerial program. They performed loops, tailspins, barrel rolls, wings-overs, and other stunts, following which Red Brown leaped from a plane from a 1,500 feet height in a parachute.

A DESERT MUSSOLINI

Ibn Saud, king of the Hedjaz and emperor of the Nejd, is about to go to work at his favorite pastime of making war in the Arabian desert. The autumn season is here and there is a task ready to his hand in the subjugation of certain recalcitrant sheiks.

So the camel legions and the harem of 24 wives, traveling in limousines imported from England, and ready to trek away across the white sands of the desert with Ibn Saud, conqueror of Mecca, and his 13 sons at their head.

As a fighting man Ibn Saud is no slouch. His gifts of natural leadership and his skill with the sword in barbaric warfare in 25 years have raised him from a princeling without a principality to the kingship of Arabia.

Ibn Saud has no ministers nor court. He is a romantic nomad dictator quite as effective in his domain as is Il Duce in his Italy.

Certain of the refinements he boasts. Others he craves. He is a radio fan, but jazz assails his barbarian's ear and from all his domain he has banned the saxophone, the banjo and the ukelele.

What a challenge to the imagination he constituted in Ibn Saud's autumn foray against subjects he declined in his patriarchal judgment to lead in unworthy battle.

In many of the finest legends of the Arabs the theme is that mercy is greater than justice. To his recalcitrants this desert chieftan is taking the mercy of the sword.

Perverted it is to be hoped that somewhere in this colorful cortege there is a modern camera man for one of the news reels concerns who can catch with the lens and hold on the film some of the rich color incident to Ibn Saud's vengeful trek into the waste places of Arabia.

POLITENESS PAYS

Did you ever consider the inestimable value of politeness?

Perhaps a hundred times a day on the streets of Salem one person brushes against another. A hurried muttered "Excuse me," or "Sorry," is passed and the pedestrians hurry on their way. Some have no place to go, but, typical of Americans, they're in a hurry to get there. Others really are in a hurry and for that reason don't think it necessary to retard their progress for two or three seconds that the innocent victim of the collision might resume his way thinking that, after all, his fellow-man isn't so inconsiderate.

A bit of politeness now and then goes a long way toward making things easier for all concerned. Of course many of us are rather stubborn and dislike terribly to admit we're in the wrong and absolutely refuse to apologize for a breach, no matter how grave it has been. But an attitude of politeness and courtesy does create a certain respect, there's no gainsaying that, and it practiced more universally this old world would be even a better place in which to live than it now is.

INDIAN SUMMER

The advent of spring is always welcome. And one looks forward to winter with a modicum of pleasure, albeit not as happily, perhaps, as one anticipates summer. But autumn—the season now at hand—is the most perfect weather of all in this zone. Indian summer, it is called, and what could be more perfect than the brand of weather Salem has been fortunate enough to have in recent days?

Indian summer is all too smart. It would be nice if the weather of the last few days might go on uninterruptedly for weeks. But it will not. There is no way to tell just when Indian summer will break over into fall rains, high winds and cold spells. But while it lasts, Indian summer certainly is all anyone could desire.

It is a lazy time of year, too. There is warmth enough in the sun to make a fellow want to stand on a street corner and cogitate. In many respects, Indian summer is akin to spring. In spring the lassitude is a relaxation from the winter's rigors. In Indian summer the lassitude is a relaxation from the heat of the summer. Both have the same effect on the average man. He wants to take it easy and yet he doesn't know why.

Indian summer and spring are our favorites. We shall hurry this into the paper, however, for fear there may come an overnight change and spoil everything.

A young German aviator, who as late as July passed his pilot's examination, has established an unofficial world record by flying upside down for 37 minutes. It might work more for the development of aviation were more time and attention given to safe flying and less to stunting.

Figures given out by the federal department of commerce show that while Germany has paid $1,990,000,000 on reparations, she meanwhile has borrowed $1,179,000,000 in the United States. At that rate we may find ourselves paying the German war debt after all.

The rebels down in Venezuela are in full flight before the government army, and the revolution is reported broken. "The senile despot" as the rebels called President Gomez, must have undergone a gland operation.

What Others Say

"WALKING SHADOWS"

A new understanding of the amazement and eagerness of an audience seeing the movies for the first time is depicted in a letter from C. R. Stegall of the Egleston Congo, in the heart of Africa. Mr. Stegall is connected with the Carson Industrial school, which is operated by the American Presbyterian Congo commission.

In this letter, from which the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., quote, Mr. Stegall tells an unusual story of a motion picture theater in the Valley of the Kasai. A night in the dark of the moon is selected for the performance because in the tropics the moonlight is so brilliant as to seriously interfere with the showing of the pictures. The stage is outlined by two palm trees, between which is stretched a sheet sufficiently thin to allow the pictures to be seen from the back side as well as the front.

In fact, Mr. Stegall says that far more people see them from the back than from the front. From the back the titles will, of course, appear reversed and so can not be read. But none of the audience can read English, and so the titles are as intelligible from one side as from the other.

The audience of natives sits on the grass. It reaches far back into the jungle. Five years ago these people had never seen a motion picture. When the first eye was thrown on the screen it meant nothing to them; it seemed to them to be simply a maze of shadows walking on the sheet. They called them "walking shadows," and the name has clung to them since. However, when Mr. Stegall was able to show them a film depicting animals which were familiar to them: A baboon, an elephant, a lion, a dog and a crocodile, they quickly recognized these familiar objects and, with this as a basis, they learned to "see" the pictures.

Another unique feature of Mr. Stegall's motion picture shows is that he is very careful not to advertise them. This is to prevent the whole countryside from turning out on a given night and causing a stampede, as has occurred occasionally. Mr. Stegall feels that his audiences are now ready to understand pictures of real educational value, such as will tell them stories of the great world beyond their jungles.—Christian Science Monitor.

SUN SPOTS AND RADIO

Radio fans who are having trouble with static and other things may take courage from the forecast of certain scientific experts that conditions will improve after October and continue to grow better until the year 1934. This certainly is something to look forward to with hopefulness.

These scientists are blaming present and past radio troubles on the existence of sun spots. At least they throw suspicion on the sun spots of having something to do with the gradually increasing unsatisfactory reception condition of which radio fans complain. And they are making investigations at several laboratories in the hope of ascertaining if their suspicions are well founded, and if all the devilment is charged to the sun-spot malice, or to just common aggravating static and broadcast interference.

It is bewildering to the lay mind to attempt to understand the scientific conjecturing that is being done. No doubt the scientists understand what they are talking about, and that sun spots, so called, are responsible for the decrease of quality of radio reception since 1922, when it is said to have been at its best. But it may be recalled that there was static in those days according to weather conditions, although there were not so many broadcast stations as there are now, when they monopolize practically every degree of the dial, and crowd in upon each other in the most discourteous way. Possibly a reduction of the number of broadcasters would improve conditions, but sun spots could be released from suspicion.

Anyway, the experts are at work in many big laboratories. If radio reception in October shall prove to be at the apex of badness, then one forecast will have been made good, and it is not long to wait. Then the sun-spot influence is forecast to be at its maximum and, again, if that influences the radio reception will be at its worst. Should October be a month of good radio reception, then the sun spots may be assumed to be not guilty, and the federal commission can apply a little law.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Massachusetts To List Attractions

Boston, Sept. 29.—A list of the 300 leading attractions in Massachusetts will be compiled for the benefit of visitors to the Bay State during the course of the Tercentenary celebration next year.

The list is to be drawn up by the Massachusetts Bay Tercentenary Conference, the organization in charge of arrangements for the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the founding of the Massachusetts colony. Every town in the state has been asked to submit attractions deemed worthy of a place on the list.

The list to be compiled will be modern in its conception and point of view, a conference announcement said, not a ready-made list to be taken for granted. The committee wishes to know what are the 300 great attractions of Massachusetts today in the opinion of the people.

The list will not be composed entirely of scenic and historical attractions, as factories, exceptional buildings, parks and schools may all be submitted for consideration. A notable board of judges, yet to be selected will pass upon the qualifications of the entries and determine the winning list.

SCIENTIST FINDS NEW CROCODILE BY LONG STUDY

Chicagoan Spends Years
In Examination Of Ancient Skull

Chicago Sept. 30.—The ways of science are strange and sundry. Karl P. Schmidt, a paleontologist at the Field Museum here, would indicate. Two years ago he discovered a crocodile skull which gave evidence of belonging to a species that had apparently never been recorded. So he set out to remedy the matter.

An ordinary man, setting out to discover a new kind of crocodile, would merely start out to discover one. But the scientist, first of all, examines and microscopes the skull to his heart's content, then he gives it a name, and then drew a picture to fit the skull and the name.

Efficient Job.—Schmidt, in this extremely simple and efficient job done, he journeyed in the queer places of the world where crocodiles might be found, and hunted around the swamps until he had bagged the crocodile that fitted the skull, the picture and the name. Now he is prepared to let the world know about his discovery.

Mr. Schmidt got his first inkling of the existence of this hitherto unknown crocodile species through examination of some decorated crocodile skulls used as fetiches by wild native tribesmen of New Guinea, which had been collected by an ethnological expedition. The museum's department of anthropology, being duplicates of the skull, he turned these specimens over to the department of zoology.

Upon close examination, Mr. Schmidt found characteristics in the skulls which did not correspond to those of any crocodile ever reported before by zoologists of any country. He pursued his studies and finally named the new species "Crocodilus novaeguineae," and prepared a description for the scientific world which was duly published by the museum.

Distinguished Party.—Last November he sailed with Cornelius Crane on the latter's yacht at the head of a party of other distinguished scientists to explore the islands of the South Pacific in the interests of science. Recently, the object of Mr. Schmidt's search, a new species of crocodile, was found in the deep interior of New Guinea. It matched the museum skull, fitted its new name and represented line for line the picture the scientist had drawn.

An airplane was used at times to help the expedition, although the larger part of the exploring was done by motor launch and afoot.

LEETONIA

Meeting of all engaged in keeping the machinery of the new consolidated schools in operation was held in the domestic science room of the North Side building, Friday evening.

Those in attendance were the board of education, Prof. Stonebraker and his corps of teachers, custodians and bus drivers, the ministers, the presidents of the Kiwanis and the Business Men's Club, W. H. Van Fossan, vice president and Henry Staley, a member of the county board of education; Harry Arnold of the Leetonia Reporter, and John Paisley of Washingtonville.

Wives and husbands of these persons were included in the guest list. A o'clock dinner was served by Mrs. Shinn and her home economics class.

Supt. E. P. Stonebraker was toastmaster for the evening. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Bull, Mrs. H. C. Brillhart, and Tom Cope, accompanied by Mrs. E. P. Stonebraker. A coin dust was given by Miss Wilhelm and Mr. Cope, with Miss Mitchell accompanying.

Speeches were made by C. E. Holt, representing the board of education; Charles Anglemeyer for the Kiwanis club; Archie Bellhart for the Business Men's club; Rev. Mr. J. D. McBride for the ministers; Harry D. Arnold for the press; Miss Elma Baugh for the teachers; Mr. Davis of Washingtonville for the custodians; and Roscoe Halverstad for the bus drivers.

Remarks were given by W. H. Egan of Lisbon; Henry Staley of Columbiana, and John Paisley of Washingtonville.

James J. Moore and Miss Albert Smith both of Sandusky were married Wednesday, at Grace Episcopal church in that city. Rev. Mr. David Wonders performing the ceremony. They will make their home in Sandusky where Mr. Moore is a practicing attorney. He is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Moore and the late John W. Moore.

St. Louis.—Five hundred of 1,000 acres in St. Charles county, granted to Daniel Boone by congress and which Boone sold to William Cassin for $320, have been sold to a St. Louis brokerage firm for $70,000 to be used as a country club.

Contractors Nearing End Of 1929 Road Improvement Work

Concrete is now being poured on the last highway in Columbiana county that is to be improved this year, this being the California Hollow section in Liverpool and St. Clair townships on the East Liverpool-Youngstown road or State Route No. 7.

Two other new roads that were opened to traffic Saturday night were the Rogers-Negley road, a distance of about five miles and the Calcutta section of the East Liverpool-East Palestine road.

Perhaps the most important road surfacing project for early in 1930 in this county will be the surfacing of the Summerville-Kensington road, and which will tap the Lincoln highway traffic at Kensington. Completion of this road will give Lincoln highway traffic a through route to Wellsville where connection is made with Ohio river traffic on Route No. 7. At the present time all such traffic is compelled to be routed through Lisbon, and thence south to Wellsville.

The Valley-Salem road is also to be surfaced next year, the award for the grading of this road having been awarded recently by the county commissioners to a Youngstown firm.

Improvement of the North Georgetown-Wellsville road is also expected to be included in the county road program next year, as this road was graded and drainage structures erected this fall. It is also proposed by the county commissioners to place a macadam top on the Elkin-Signal road that is now being graded.

NO WORD FROM FRENCH FLIERS

Costes, Mechanic, Missing
Over Siberian Wastes;
Gas Supply Gone

Paris, Sept. 30.—Complete mystery today surrounded the whereabouts of Captain Dieudonne Costes and Maurice Bellonte, famous French aviators who are missing on an attempted record-breaking distance and endurance flight.

Up to a late hour today, no word had been received of their position, and it appeared that they had been as completely swallowed up by the land they sought to traverse as Nungesser and Goll were by the ocean two years ago.

Heading toward Irkutsk, Siberia, an approximate distance of 3,000 miles, Costes and Bellonte left Le Bourget flying field Friday morning. They planned a stop at Irkutsk, and hoped to be able to continue on to Tokyo.

But nothing has been heard of them since an escort plane left them flying in their huge Breguet monoplane "Question Mark" at a speed of 120 miles an hour over Cologne, Germany. Their fuel supply was exhausted long ago, and it appeared today that unless they lost their lives in a crash, they must have been forced down in some isolated spot, possibly miles from civilization.

Their equipment, which included fishing tackle, would enable them to shift for themselves for a considerable period, but the complete absence of reports has served to arouse grave fears. The Soviet government at Moscow has been asked to forward all information concerning the aviators to the French air ministry, but no word has been received.

St. Ives Revives Sunday Blue Laws

St. Ives, Cornwall, Sept. 30.—The war on violators of St. Ives' strict Sabbatharian laws, the revival of which recently has thrown this picturesque Cornish fishing village into throes of religious fervor, has been carried to such lengths that on Sunday last passed a crowd of fishermen hurled rocks from the quay at a pleasure party happening to pass in a motorboat.

Artists who set up their easels to do a bit of sketching were forced to pack up their kits and return to their hotels and no boat of any kind was allowed to enter or leave the harbor.

The "Keep the Sabbath" movement was recently revived among the pious Cornish folk by an itinerant preacher who exhorted his hearers to follow most strictly the Old Testament injunction against doing any gainful labor on the Lord's Day. So literally have the St. Ives folk taken their preacher's words that people have been advised to stop playing their gramophones on Sunday, the few moving picture shows in town have been closed and even hotel keepers have been warned that if they're caught doing any "fancy cooking" for their guests they will be ducked in the bay.

A household novelty is a set of towel racks mounted in a bottomless drawer that can be pushed back under a kitchen table.

Remarks were given by W. H. Egan of Lisbon; Henry Staley of Columbiana, and John Paisley of Washingtonville.

James J. Moore and Miss Albert Smith both of Sandusky were married Wednesday, at Grace Episcopal church in that city. Rev. Mr. David Wonders performing the ceremony. 257 INJURED IN COLUMBIANA CO. DURING AUGUST

Industrial Death Toll Set
At One; Time Lost
By Men

Industrial accidents occur with such regularity and the totals mount so insidiously, that it hardly seems possible that 257 workers were injured in Columbiana County during the month of August. But that is what the records of claims filed with the Industrial Commission show, according to statistics just issued by the Division of Safety and Hygiene.

Of the total number of accidents, one resulted fatally, none caused permanent disability, 64 resulted in more than seven days lost time, 23 in seven days or less and 166 in no loss of time but representing medical fees paid. The total time lost for the county due to these mishaps was 7,854 days.

The State as a whole reported 24,522 accidents in August, including 120 fatalities and the total time lost was 1,061,228 days. This is an increase in the frequency of accidents over the preceding month and also an increase of 12 in the fatalities.

Accident prevention and its attendant reduction in the economic loss to employers and workers as well as the preservation of the health and happiness of the personnel of Ohio industries, says Governor Myers Y. Cooper, "is a problem well worth the serious attention of our people. No better reaction to the necessity for solving that problem could be had than by general participation in the movement to make October a No-Accident Month in every concern in which Ohio people are gainfully employed. The records of many Ohio industries give practical evidence of the fact that accidents are largely preventable if employers provide proper safeguards and workers exercise caution in the handling of their daily tasks. Mutual recognition of personal responsibility for safety and earnest co-operation should result in results in October which will be both gratifying and profitable to all of us."

HOMEWORTH
Mr. and Mrs. William Boltz of Alliance called on relatives in Homeworth, Friday evening. The funeral of Frank Bandy was largely attended at the Reading church, Thursday afternoon. Interment was made in Mt. Union cemetery.

New Method Of Curing Hay Seen As Boon For Farms

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Since the days of the ancient tribes hay has been made chiefly while the sun shone. But a new method, by which better quality hay is made while it rains, thunders or snows, is now being tried out on a large Wisconsin farm.

Howard T. Greene and his brother, dairyman and owners of the Brook Hill farm in Wisconsin, here for a brief visit, explained the new process to International News. They estimated that the feeding of the artificial hay to their 350 cows has already increased milk production by more than 100,000 quarts, in addition to saving something like $8,000 on the feed bill.

The process, in brief, is as follows: The potential hay crop is cut green, run through a cutter and then blown through a series of pipes and chambers at the rate of eighty miles an hour. Next the well chopped plants are subjected to a heat of 900 degrees Fahrenheit. This heat is in the form of furnace gases and superheated steam made from the moisture given off by the plants.

Tasty Product.
The gaseous mixture in the pipes is practically free from oxygen, thus permitting the drying of the hay without burning the plants. The entire trick is turned in forty minutes. The finished product is of a rich green color, sweet and tasty as molasses to the bovines.

The two enterprising dairymen already have stored 300 tons of this superior hay in their barns. They contend that the feed coming from the 350 acres will be the equivalent of the hay coming from 450 acres of these crops where the common method of curing hay is used. Besides, the brothers are sure that the nutritive value of the hay makes it worth at least $10 more per ton.

It was pointed out, also, that heavy losses farmers suffer in the having season on account of inclement weather and mechanical loss are reduced to a minimum by the new method. The reason given is that the destructive causes are eliminated, as the crop is cut and run through the machine like so much sausage and there you are. It makes no difference whether the green stuff is dripping wet or parched.

Extend Crop Season.
They predict, further, that with the new haying machine the crop season can be extended from May to October, or aggregating in all a period of five months much more than its present length.

The artificial hay, it was found, consumes a comparatively small amount of space. They claimed a cubic foot of space in the mow will hold approximately 15 pounds of the artificially dried hay, while only about four pounds of ordinary hay could be stored in the same space.

"With the crops we have this year we could have the barns full and stacks and racks strung all over the farm if the hay had been cured in the regular way," said Howard Greene. But under the new plan we will be able to put all of our hay under cover. This hay contains 10 per cent more moisture, while ordinary hay has from 20 to 25 per cent moisture at this time of the year and approximately 10 per cent in winter after it has stood for several weeks. The artificial hay will lose little if any moisture.

"We are also having crops cut earlier—which is possible with this new process—in time to catch the weeds before they go to seed. The weeds make good hay. The hay coming from the dryer seems to have a molasses flavor and the cows are crazy over it. We believe that a higher percentage of sugar is retained in the plant, which is very desirable. With hay cured the usual way most of the sugar changes to starch. The animal's body uses the carbohydrates in the form of sugar and when they are eaten in the form of starch the cow's digestive system has the extra task of changing it back into sugar.

The machine built by the Greene brothers was worked out by A. W. Koon of Thibodaux, Louisiana.

KALEY-LENTZ
REV. VINCENT JONES, of St. Paul's Catholic church, officiated at the wedding of Miss Nora Kaley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kaley, Jennings ave., and Stanley A. Lentz, son of Mrs. Anna Lentz, of Detroit, at 4 p. m. Saturday at St. Paul's parsonage.

The bride wore an attractive blue velvet gown with accessories to harmonize. She carried a shower bouquet of ivory roses and anemones.

Miss Helen Kaley, who served her sister as maid of honor, was attired in tan crepe de chine, trimmed in a contrasting shade of velvet. Her bouquet was pink roses and maiden hair ferns. John M. Kaley, brother of the bride was best man.

Following the ceremony, which was witnessed by the bride's immediate family, Mr. and Mrs. Kaley entertained 100 guests.

The home was made beautiful with baskets of roses, carnations and chrysanthemums.

When the dinner was served the bride's table was set under an arch of roses and dahlias. On the table was a large center piece of roses and carnations. The other tables were decorated with baskets of flowers and a color scheme of pink and white prevailed.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Rose McLaughlin.

After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Lentz will make their home in Cleveland.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Alice McNamara, Miss Katherine Kaley, Julius Nemeth, Miss Stella Kaley, Wm. Polley and A. J. Kaley of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kaley and son Robert, of Chicago; Lawrence McDade, of Pittsburgh;

TRAFFIC

 While Motor company, died after a fourth blood transfusion which was necessitated by injuries which he received in an automobile accident.

A man believed to be H. A. Bretschneider, 35, of Bedford, was killed when an automobile in which he was riding crashed into another car near Strongsville. Crayton Korkley, aged of Bedford, who was in the car with the victim, received minor injuries.

Six persons—all Clevelanders—were hurt in a three-car collision in Euclid Village last night. An unlighted parked car was held responsible for the smashup.

MOTHER SHOTS TWO DAUGHTERS

Ends Own Life; Girls May Be Wounded Fatally

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 30.—Another tragedy was enacted here about midnight when a 37-year-old mother shot and probably fatally wounded her two daughters and then committed suicide.

The victims are Mrs. Joseph Leiderer, 37, who died from a self-inflicted bullet wound, and her daughters, Marie, 13, who was shot in the chest, and Helen, 11, who was wounded in the back and side.

Mrs. Leiderer, neighbors declared, had been in ill health for a year and constant worry over her health is believed to have caused the woman to become deranged.

Marie, the elder daughter, told a heart-wracking story as she lay in General hospital here, where doctors said both she and Helen have but a very slim chance to live. The girl's story follows:

"Mother acted so strange before we fell asleep. She sat on the edge of the bed and just looked at us."

"I was awakened by a shot. My mother was crying. She fired another shot. I jumped up from bed."

"When the third shot was fired, I felt a sting in my chest. Another shot sounded and I heard something fall."

Then the child lapsed into unconsciousness. The first gunshot report the girl referred to was probably the first shot that her mother fired into Helen's side. Helen was wounded twice, in the side and in the back. The second shot, police figures, penetrated the smaller girl's back.

The third shot killed Marie, and the fourth report that she told of hearing was probably the shot which the mother fired into her own brain.

The husband and father, who is a taxi-cab driver, was not home at the time of the tragedy.

MEN ARRESTED

The robbery of the Spatelli hardware store in Leontonia, is said to have been perpetrated by the pair Thursday night. The guns, ammunition, and other supplies, police say, were obtained there while the groceries, clothes and merchandise were obtained in rains on other scores.

Three sweaters, one ham, a box of three-inch shotgun shells, one box of 22-caliber rifle shells, one pair of shoes, a sack of sugar, flashlight and batteries and other goods which W. D. Edgerton, proprietor of a general store in Winona reported stolen in a robbery of his store Saturday night, were among the merchandise found by police when Grinn and Munner were arrested.

Grinn and Munner were arrested on information received by William McVain, member of the Salem fire department, who said he notified Mayor Phil G. Haddesen, who then detailed Malley Jones, Yardwood and Reardon for duty. The four went to Teegarden, where they carried on quiet investigations for an hour. Munner and Grinn were found to be residing at the home of Newton Ingelue near Teegarden, and the officers visited the house and found Munner asleep on the porch of the house, with a loaded shotgun on his arms, and a revolver in his belt.

Find Diamond Ring
 Apparently he had been detailed for guard duty by Grinn, and had fallen asleep. He was arrested, handcuffed, following which the officers entered the house, where they found Grinn playing cards. A diamond ring, which police state may be the property of Miss Goldie Blair, Depot st., who was held up and robbed by two armed bandits last Sunday morning was found in a pocket of Grinn's coat.

Following a search of the Ingelue home, two officers brought the pair to city jail here, and returned to the scene of the arrest. The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lease, west of Teegarden, was also searched, police finding the shotgun, ammunition and provisions there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lease were brought to this city and lodged in jail. Police stated a charge of receiving stolen property will probably be filed against them.

Munner and Grinn may be turned over to Jefferson county authorities, or will be kept here for arraignment before the Columbiana county grand jury on grand larceny charges, resulting from their robberies in this vicinity. Grinn had been a trustee in the Steubenville jail, and was serving a sentence for stealing chickens. Munner was serving a sentence for violation of his parole from the Ohio state penitentiary.

A new four-passenger coupe, which police say was stolen in Cuyahoga last week, is being held by Salem authorities, pending word from authorities of that city. Grinn is said to have admitted theft of the car.

Recovers from Burns

Mrs. E. G. Ware, of Benton Road, who was burned in a gasoline explosion at Laguerre, Pa., was brought to her home here Saturday morning. She is slowly recovering from her injuries.

Squirrel Hunters Make Big Find

Barnesville, O., Sept. 30.—Constables William Boyd and William Green went squirrel hunting. They found a burrow bag full of bottles containing alleged liquor along with a lane in a woods. They gave up the squirrel hunt and began watching for bigger game. Clifford Denny drove up in a new automobile and took the bag from the place of concealment. The officers closed in on him and captured him. He is in jail today.

ARMY BALLOON LEADS IN RACE

Winner of Last Event Has Greatest Distance

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—Capt. William Kepner, piloting the United States army balloon, today had travelled the greatest distance of any entrant to land this far in the Gordon Bennett international balloon race.

Kepner, winner of the 1928 Bennett race, landed at Celina, O., at 3 o'clock yesterday, having gone 381 miles from the point of take-off.

Only two of the nine entries in the race were still fighting for the trophy today. They were the Belgica of Belgium and the Denmark. Bad weather forced the other contestants to the ground.

Second in point of distance was the Goodyear VIII, a civilian balloon which came down late yesterday near Troy, O., 323 miles from here.

One near tragedy marked the lighter-than-air classic. That was when the Argentina, only South American entry, crashed in a farm three miles south of Fairbanks, Ind., and pilot Eduardo Bradley suffered a broken leg.

Bradley was rushed to a hospital at Terre Haute where his condition is said to be serious. His assistant, Francisco Cadaval, was also injured in the fall.

The United States navy balloon piloted by Lieut. T. Settle was forced down ten miles southeast of Eaton, O., 315 miles from St. Louis. This was the third longest distance reported thus far.

KIWANIS CLUBS IN CONVENTION

Marietta Scene of Ohio Gathering; 2,000 In Attendance

Marietta, Sept. 30.—Nearly 2,000 Kiwanians and their ladies are expected here today for the twelfth annual Ohio district convention which will be in session until Wednesday noon. One of the largest service club gatherings in the history of the state is anticipated.

The Marietta Kiwanis club, which last year won the service badge of Kiwanis International for its comprehensive program of activity, will be the host and has perfected an elaborate program of entertainment.

Headquarters of the convention will be at the Hotel Lafayette. The activities will center about the city auditorium, the new field house at Marietta college, the Betsy Mills club and the new college bath house which was recently built by the entertaining club.

Sunday was given over to registration and to an evening reception of guests. The convention opened at 10 o'clock this morning. Mayor John W. Gray and Judge Frank F. Fleming, the latter governor of Civitan in the district embracing Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia and Kentucky, made the welcome addresses. Response was by Robert F. Fry, past district governor.

Governor Myers Y. Cooper will address an open session of the convention at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He will talk on "Public Affairs."

truition in its wake, today threatened that portion of the gulf coast lying between Apalachicola, south-east of here and Mobile to the west.

Late last night, with issuance of the last weather report from Washington, the storm was approximately 125 miles west of Tampa, moving northwest at approximately 10 miles an hour. It was expected to cross the coast line sometime today the hour depending on whether it strikes near Apalachicola or further west.

From all indications, the storm did its worst damage at Nassau in the Bahamas, where 25 persons were killed tremendous property damage inflicted. However, great losses including the fruit and vegetable crop from that section, were reported from Homestead, thirty miles south of Miami, and from the Florida keys came meagre reports of death and suffering.

Report Several Drowned

Messages from Key West said several persons were drowned at no name key when the high waves inundated the land. Their identity is not yet known.

Two feet of water here left spread over the entire lowland area by the flood which followed the brief but disastrous storm. The water is now moving rapidly out of the district. No lives were lost when the storm hit Homestead, but the town suffered severely from the high wind.

The Redlands fruit area, the largest uninfected fruit section in the state, reported a tremendous loss, with millions of dollars in fruit, trees and vegetables destroyed.

guilty to possession in order to save a charge being filed against an unnamed man in Salem.

Where defendants entered pleas of not guilty, hearings have been set commencing the week of Oct. 14, and at intervals during the balance of the month.

In accepting bonds, the court took advantage of a section of the new criminal code, where a bond of not exceeding $200 can be given without the process of further affidavits being filed. The supply of printed bond forms became exhausted early last Friday morning, and the court then had his clerical force make typewritten forms.

State Prohibition inspectors will return to Lisbon to attend all trials of those who have entered pleas of not guilty.

ARMY BALLOON LEADS IN RACE

Winner of Last Event Has Greatest Distance

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—Capt. William Kepner, piloting the United States army balloon, today had travelled the greatest distance of any entrant to land this far in the Gordon Bennett international balloon race.

Kepner, winner of the 1928 Bennett race, landed at Celina, O., at 3 o'clock yesterday, having gone 381 miles from the point of take-off.

Only two of the nine entries in the race were still fighting for the trophy today. They were the Belgica of Belgium and the Denmark. Bad weather forced the other contestants to the ground.

Second in point of distance was the Goodyear VIII, a civilian balloon which came down late yesterday near Troy, O., 323 miles from here.

One near tragedy marked the lighter-than-air classic. That was when the Argentina, only South American entry, crashed in a farm three miles south of Fairbanks, Ind., and pilot Eduardo Bradley suffered a broken leg.

Bradley was rushed to a hospital at Terre Haute where his condition is said to be serious. His assistant, Francisco Cadaval, was also injured in the fall.

The United States navy balloon piloted by Lieut. T. Settle was forced down ten miles southeast of Eaton, O., 315 miles from St. Louis. This was the third longest distance reported thus far.

FULLING CONTEST

Second trials were made with the machine regulated at 2500 pounds, or the equivalent of 13 tons. Each of the nine entries remaining in the contest qualified, and 3 1/4 tons were added to the load, bringing it to 16 1/4 tons. Only three teams, those entered by J. E. Moore, Hanover; S. B. Cope, and A. A. Lee, Washingtonville, qualified by drawing the load 27 1/2 ft.

Load Increased
 With the load increased to 18 1/2 tons, none of the teams was able to pull it to the qualifying mark. Moore's horses just moved the load two inches on their third trial. Cope's forged ahead for a distance of 3 ft. 3 in. to win the event, and Lee's entries won second with a pull of six inches.

Complete results follow:
Heavyweight Division.
 First—Team entered by S. B. Cope, Salem, weighing 3,475 lbs. Pulled 2,800 lbs. (equivalent to 18 1/2 tons) 3 ft. 3 in. Second—A. A. Lee, Washingtonville, team weighing 3,520, pulled 2,800 lbs. 9 in. Third—J. E. Moore, Hanover, team weighing 3,665, pulling 2,800 lbs. 2 in. Fourth—M. W. Hannay Salem, pulled 2,500 lbs. (equivalent to 16 1/2 tons), 23 ft. 9 in.

Lightweight Division
 Team entered by Harry Brown, Ellsworth, won; pulled equivalent of 16 1/4 tons 25 ft. 2 in. Second—Team entered by Frank Baker, Columbiana; pulled equivalent of 16 1/4 tons 24 ft. Third—W. B. Stratton, Winona; pulled equivalent of 16 1/4 tons 1 ft. 7 in. Fourth P. W. Williamson, Columbiana; pulled 16 1/4 tons five inches.

MARKETS
MARKET OPENING
New York, Sept. 30.—The market was irregular at the opening today. While a few of the blue chips sold up sharply, the rank and file of industrial favorites had little to show in the way of week end improvement.

National Biscuit jumped 4 1/2 points to 223 and Eastman Kodak was up 3 at 222 1/2. Coppers were strong, with inspiration up 2 points to 43 1/2; American Smelting up 1 at 113; Anaconda up 1/2 at 117. International Nickel recovered 1/2 at 37 1/2.

Motor stocks also rallied, with General Motors up 1 1/2 at 67 1/2; Chrysler up 1/2 at 69 1/2; Hudson up 1/2 at 75; Nash, Studebaker and Packard fractionally higher.

Salem High Varsity, Reserves Defeat Akron West High Teams

Red And Black Rallies To Emerge Victor With Cowboys Ahead At Half

After trailing at the half, 7-12, Salem High's gridders staged a great rally in final periods to swallow Akron West High 19-12, at Akron Saturday. Coach Stone's warriors showed a lack of fight during the initial half, and rallied just in time to prevent defeat at the hands of the West eleven.

The victory marked the second of the day for Salem over West High gridders. Coach William McCord's hardy second varsity combination having defeated the Rubber City school's reserves, 15-6, in the conflict at Reilly stadium the same afternoon.

The Salem outfit should have defeated the West varsity by a much larger score. West is not rated as a strong team in Akron scholastic circles, and was badly outwitted by the visiting eleven Saturday.

PHILLIES SEEN AS CONTENDER FOR 1930 FLAG

By HENRY MCLEMORE
New York, Sept. 29.—The Phillies this year have been every bit as important to Philadelphia as say, sleeves to a vest.

In the mad joy of watching Mr. Mack's white elephants trumpet their way to a pennant and a world series your Philadelphia fan has had little time for Mr. Bert Shotton's nationals. But next 1930 or 1931 at the latest, should bring quite a change. For Mr. Shotton given a couple of pitchers who can do something more than perspire and the same lowly Phillies of 1929 may become some sort of a scourge. They have the catching plus a fine defensive infield. All they need is a flinger or two of sorts to set them on their way.

How they can hit was ably demonstrated yesterday when they clubbed Uncle Robbie's Robins, 12 to 3, with Vance on the mound. The one bright spot for the flatbush boys was Johnny Frederick's 22nd home run.

St. Louis managed to ease one run over the plate in the last half of the ninth to beat the Pirates, 2 to 1, after Paul Waner's homer had tied things in the buns half of the inning. Other national clubs not scheduled.

George Earnshaw scored his 23rd win of the season and Al Simmons hit his 32nd home run as the Athletics bounced the Red Sox, 5 to 3.

Using the same tactics that delighted their late manager, the Yankees slugged out a 10 to 3 win over Washington. Bill Dickey led the Yank attack with a triple and a pair of singles. Chicago and Cleveland were rained out while the other clubs were not scheduled.

Receiving Sports Over the Weekend

Liverpool Ties
East Liverpool-Cleveland Holy Name figured as one of the weakest grid aggregations in the Cleveland district, pulled a fast one, holding East Liverpool to a scoreless tie, here, Saturday. The teams fought on even terms throughout. Liverpool plays at New Philadelphia next Saturday.

South Forced To Limit
Youngstown—Pupil almost triumphed over teacher, here Saturday, as Memorial High forced Youngstown South to their limit, before Burt Ashbaugh's gridders defeated the combine tutored by Dick Barrett, who learned his first football under the South mentor. Memorial led at the half 7-0, and outplayed South most of the game.

Lancaster, Ont.—Helen Hicks
Hewlett, N. Y. golfer, won the Canadian women's open golf title, here, Saturday.

Cleveland—John Carroll college today has a new record in scoring, its gridders having piled up a 99-0 score on the weak little Valparaiso team, Saturday.

Alliance—Mount Union now heralds what is believed will be a real contender in Ohio college grid honors, its plucky aggregation having held Michigan to a 18-0 score, Saturday. Michigan was forced to use its entire varsity team.

Connecticut Towns Go Deeply In Debt

Hartford, Sept. 30.—Connecticut towns are going deeply into debt, according to a statement issued by the state tax commissioner here. During the year 1928 expenditures of the towns were almost eleven million dollars above receipts. The commissioner pointed out that:

"While population in Connecticut increased 8.7 per cent over 1924, governmental expenses increased 36 per cent. Expenses also increased at a much more rapid rate than tax receipts and grand lists."

Counties of New London and Middlesex have no debts. Neither have the towns of Andover, Ayer, Goshen, and Scotland. Boroughs of Goshen, Branford, Newtown, and Wallingford are in the same category. Wallingford has the distinction of having the greatest debt. That city of 150,000 owes $173.14 per resident.

COLUMBIANA

A series of three union Sunday evening services are planned by the pastors of the Columbiana, North

Lima and Lisbon Reformed churches. The first was at North Lima

Sunday evening, with Rev. E. F.

W. as the speaker. The second will be held Oct. 6, at St. Jacob's church, near Lisbon, with Rev. L. J.

Stearns of North Lima as the speaker. These three pastors are arranging for programs in celebration of the 190th anniversary of the birth of the Christian church.

Members of the Handy Workers club were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. S.

Greenwalt, North Elm st., with 11 members and three visitors present.

The latter being Thelma and Richard Weller, Youngstown, and Miss

Edith Shonk. The home was beautifully decorated with yellow margolds and other flowers and a delicious two course lunch was served.

Mr. John Groner will be the next hostess to the club.

The Columbiana chapter of the Child Conservation League of America met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. R. Riddle, North

Main st., with 15 members present.

Papers were given by Mrs. E. C.

Bainger, Mrs. W. H. Britten and

Mrs. Richard Orr, while the discussion was led by Mrs. Earl Newell. The next meeting Oct. 14, will be at the home of Mrs. W. H. Britten, South Main st.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Hasey, living

east of Columbiana, have announced the engagement of their daughter,

Miss Violet Marie Probst of Youngstown to Kenneth W. Shood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Shood, also of Youngstown. The wedding will be

The Dorcas class of the Methodist Sunday school taught by Mrs. Walter Smith, was entertained Thursday evening in the home of Miss Ethel Weikart. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed with contests. Honors were won by Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. George Morrow and Miss Hazel Barton. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Florence Tingle.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Grindle and son spent several days last week in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richards at Niles.

Relatives here received word of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Nichols at Hartford, Ky. on September 8. He has been named Hugh Elton.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Marquardt and family of Canfield moved into the Ed Lewis property on Maple St. Wednesday.

Mrs. Oren McClun and son Virgil spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Anglemeyer at Lestonia.

A new electric clock has been placed in the hall of the public school.

Smart Ensemble For Fall

PATTERN 1764

Salem News 15c Practical Pattern

THE smart young miss in her teens will adore the stunning ensemble presented today, Design 1764. It consists of a sleeveless bodice, front pleated skirt and becoming jacket. Note the banding that trims the jacket and at the same time takes the place of a separate collar.

Practical, as well as smart, are the tweeds, jerseys and wool crepes used with a contrasting woolen fabric or with silk crepe for the bodice. The narrow belt is of leather. Shades of brown, blue or green are lovely for the young girl.

May be obtained only in sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14.

Size 8 requires 1 1/2 yards of 40 inch, and 1 1/2 yards of 34 inch material.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of FIFTY CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

Our LATEST FASHION BOOK will be sent upon receipt of TEN CENTS in coin. Address all mail orders to SALEM NEWS Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.

THE GUMPS—THE WIDOW'S PROGRESS

GOOD MORNING, MR. CARR—THIS IS HENRIETTA ZANDER CALLING—I JUST WANT TO TELL YOU HOW OUR COMMITTEE APPRECIATED YOUR CHECK—AND I WANT TO THANK YOU AGAIN AND AGAIN FOR THEM—NOT ONLY FOR THE AMOUNT—BUT FOR THE CHEERFUL—MANLY WAY YOU GAVE IT—YOU'LL BE REPAID FOR IT IN SOMEWAY—I'M SURE—

BUT AFTER ALL—ISN'T IT THE GOOD WE DO FOR OTHERS THAT MAKES US HAPPY—WE WHO UNDERSTAND THE STRONG—THAT HAVE—AND CAN GIVE A HELPING HAND TO OUR LESS SUCCESSFUL BROTHERS—

AS BEECHER SAYS—

"IN THIS WORLD—IT IS NOT WHAT WE TAKE UP—BUT WHAT WE GIVE UP THAT MAKES US RICH—YOU WILL BE BLESSED MY BOY—

AND BY THE WAY—I'M INTERESTED IN THAT FACTORY OF YOURS—ID LIKE TO COME DOWN THERE SOMEDAY—AND SEE ALL THAT WONDERFUL MACHINERY—THE WHEELS—AND SEE THOSE THINGAMAGIGS IN ACTION—ID LIKE TO SEE HOW THAT WONDERFUL BURGLAR ALARM IS MADE—I'M SURE IT MUST BE INTERESTING—MAY I COME SOME DAY? MAY I?

WHOOPEE! ANOTHER APPOINTMENT WITH TOM CARR THIS TIME—TO TAKE A PEEP INTO THE MINT—NOT BAD—HENRIETTA—NOT BAD!

BRINGING UP FATHER

WELL IF MAGGIE WON'T GIVE ME MY LAMP BACK, I'LL SHOW HER I BOUGHT ONE FOR MYSELF NOW TO SUP ON ME BATH-ROBE AND SIT DOWN AND READ.

MOTHER, DID YOU SEE THE NEW LAMP IN DADDY'S ROOM? IT'S MUCH PRETTIER THAN YOURS.

REALLY? I MUST SEE IT—I WONDER WHERE HE GOT IT?

I REALLY BELIEVE IT IS. I'LL GIVE THIS ONE TO DAUGHTER.

HEY! WHERE'S MY LAMP GONE?

TO SETTLE AN ESTATE

We can offer you this 40-acre farm which is located about one mile south of Salem. It is improved with an extra good eight room house, has gas, electricity and furnace heat. House is nicely planned and floors are finished for rugs. Barn and other outside necessary buildings. A first class young orchard, with a variety of fruit of all kinds, abundance of good shade, and beautiful lawn. This is really a city home in the country. Another big feature to this tract of land is, it faces two roads, and there could be tracts of land sold off, so that the money you receive from tracts will leave this fine house and a few acres cost you very little, as we have the price reduced to $8,000 for a short time only. HERE IS A CHANCE OF YOUR LIFETIME. Move the family to the country and cut down your overhead. See—

COMMUNITY DAY

The spectacle, about 40 hours were in the parade, music was provided by Quaker City band and the Salem High school band, and two floats entered by the Kiwanis club and the American Legion auxiliary were very attractive. Quota club members rode in a flower-decked auto.

Decorated bicycles, ponies, decorated doll carriages pushed by little girls and boys arrayed in striking outfits, Mullins boats, Denning sprayers, trucks and automobiles also made up units of the parade.

Judging of the decorated doll carriages was done in front of the Memorial building as the horses were being assembled at Reddy field for the horse show. Grant Cruikshank and his sons of Butler, Pa., were in charge of the judging of the horses and large crowds remained at the athletic field as the fine specimens were shown on the track. Judging of other events was done by cut-of-town judges.

Airplanes and the Goodyear dirigible "Pilgrim" circled over Reddy field as the horses were being judged.

Horse Pulling Contest
The horse-pulling contest drew thousands of people to Centennial park in the afternoon. It was the first time such a contest had been held in Salem or even in this part of Ohio, and the crowds soon displayed their enthusiasm. As teams of various weights tugged away, the crowds cheered and the interest seemed to increase as the contest proceeded. The pulling machine was brought from Columbus, it having been used at the Ohio State fair last month.

Following this contest two Canton stunt fliers displayed their talent at tail-pinning, looping, barrel rolls and other air stunts. "Red" Miller slid off the end of one of the wings for a parachute jump and then the airplanes entered into a balloon bursting contest that proved to be interesting.

Crowds Remain Late
The crowds remained in the city until late Saturday night, gathering on Main st. to see the platform entertainers. An accident prevented the high-diver from completing his act. Announcement of winners in the "pot of gold" was made by Col. J. H. Sinclair about 10 p. m.

During the day many who had not visited the apple show Friday night went to Memorial building where W. H. Matthews was in charge of the fine displays of apples, peaches, pears, potatoes and grapes.

The entire program brought many favorable comments and R. S. McCulloch, general chairman, and his aides from the Business Bureau felt that Salem offered a day of real entertainment for the thousands who came to the city Saturday.

"DARK STREETS"

The first dual role in the history of talking pictures is played by Jack Mulhall in "Dark Streets," the new First National-Vitaphone production which comes to the State theatre tonight.

In "Dark Streets" Mulhall plays the parts of two brothers, enough alike to be mistaken frequently for each other, but widely different mentally and morally. Out of this resemblance and this difference comes the story, which is highly thrilling.

"Dark Streets" relates the love of the two brothers for one girl, played by Lila Lee. She loves both of them, and not until the life of Pat, the cop, is endangered through the actions of the crook does she make up her mind that it is Pat that she cares for most.

The brothers try to protect each other. Pat warns Danny, the crook, to give up his law-breaking career and Danny tells Pat he ought to give up being a flatfoot at $40 per week to join the gang and make some real money. Finally, the gang, incensed at Pat's interference with their plans, arrange to "get" him. Then comes an unexpected and dramatic twist to the story.

Lila Lee gives a charming characterization as the Irish girl.

"FROM HEADQUARTERS"

How a man will instinctively care for something precious, even though he himself may actually be in a delirious condition that has brought him very near to death, is forcibly illustrated in the newest Warner Brothers' production "From Headquarters," starring Monte Blue, which comes to the Royal theatre tonight.

Four men start on a perilous journey through a wild country in the Tropics, carrying a new-born baby back to civilization, and always in their minds is the thought that the infant must be cared for. Though assailed by swamp fever, starvation, the ravages of bad water and the attacks of raving bandits, instinct forces them to give their first thought always to the baby.

Monte Blue, Guinn Williams, Henry B. Walthall and Eddie Gribbon are the men who take this terrible journey, and its depiction on the screen forms one of the most dramatic sequences in film history.

Apparatus to keep the air in residences moist in winter so furniture and woodwork will not dry sufficiently to deteriorate has been developed by a New Jersey inventor.

Peacock Looks Happy As Big Gates Close

White Plain, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Looking happier than he has at any time in the last fortnight, Earle F. Peacock was taken from the county jail here today and started for Sing Sing prison at Ossining where he will begin serving an indeterminate sentence of from 20 years to life for the murder of his bride, Dorothy Heinzelman Peacock.

Flashlights beamed as the young radio technician and dance hall "shik" emerged from the jail, shackled to a deputy sheriff. The latest of America's array of greatly publicized defendants were a smug, self-satisfied expression on his pale face.

Child Killed

Campbell, O., Sept. 30.—One youth was held by authorities here today as a thorough police probe was made into the shooting of 10-year-old Ansel Todowa, who was found fatally wounded in an abandoned life building on the outskirts of the city yesterday.
